<http://www.phddata.org>

The link above includes dissertations that you can download at no cost. It is international. You will have to be creative in your combination of search terms. I tried "Humans Animals" and "Children Animals" and got some hits. There are also links to archived articles and as well as other databases.

Objectives of NDLTD

- To improve graduate education by allowing students to produce electronic documents, use digital libraries, and understand issues in publishing
- To increase the availability of student research for scholars and to preserve it electronically
- To lower the cost of submitting and handling theses and dissertations
- To empower students to convey a richer message through the use of multimedia and hypermedia technologies
- To empower universities to unlock their information resources
- To advance digital library technology
